About the Bogus Radical Legislature that was Expected to Assemble at Little Rock Yesterday.

The Clayton-M'Clureltes Busy as Beavers-Price, of the Republican, and his Bogns Dispatch.

Little Rock Gazette.] Under the constitution of 1868, were t in force, the legislature would convene o morrow, being the first Monday in In November the Republi cans voted for members of the legislacure under the constitution. No returns were made of that election, so called. candidates voted for by the Republicans n the third of November would assemble and attempt an organization tomorrow. Just exactly how they will proceed about this we cannot see. No returns were made of the so-called election, and there is no secretary o state to furnish a list of members elected or if there was, there are no returns from which to compile the list. Besides th s want of regularity, any attempt to set up a new legislature would be treason

A LITTLE SENSATION. As stated in another paragraph of today's Gazette, under the constitution of 1868 the legislature would meet to-morrow. A short time since it was determined by the Radical managers to have certain so-called members of the legislature, voted for on the third of November, assemble and organize to-morrow Things have not been going the Radical way lately, however, and those partie physician was fixed at twelve hundred | who were voted for, seeing the fate of V dollars per annum, and Dr. Duncan was V. Smith, have been hesitating about attempting an organization-indeed, the hesitation has been so great that not one-fourth would agree to enter into the conspiracy. So this scheme to keep up even the semblance of a government under the old con-titution, during the past few days has been certain of failure. Seeing this, the Clayton-M'-Clureites desired to put a little backbone into their followers. The only way to do it, as they conceived, was to send them some good news from Washington. This was managed by Price, of the Republican Yesterday morning he had set up and printed on a Washington, in which it stated that all the members of the Arkansas investigating committee, except Mr. Sayler have agreed to report in favor of Mr. Brooks and against the present government. This bogus dispatch Price pasted on a piece of paper, and showed around Many Democrats were alarmed, and the Republicans correspondingly elated. Considerable enthusiasm was manifested, and the so-called members of the socalled legislature had a little courage instilled into them. But the fraud was too apparent. Parties began to scan the St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Memphis Li CRNE De ember 28th, fram near Shelby Depot Tennes ee, a sorrel horse about 15%-hands high, a small white spot in torselead and stripe down the pose; both bind near will be liberally rewarded by leaving him at Vantrokin's stable, in temphis, or at John Hallum's near Shelby, it can have her by paying charge.
